

HOSTING EVENTS

is a great way for your business to engage your clients, connect with prospects, and get your name in the news. Divinity DJs can help with fun activities to facilitate team building, generate excitement for grand openings, or even bring fun for holiday parties.

Here are more types of events your business could host and Divinity DJs can help.

Business Dinners:

One of the most traditional business events, business dinners can be held for a range of reasons, from celebrating milestones to simply getting together with employees and clients.

2

Golf Tournaments:

An annual golf tournament is a good way to increase customer loyalty, reward employees, and acquire new customers. You could use your golf event to raise money for a charity of your choice.

3

Grand Openings:

Did you just renovate your store, or are you planning to open soon? Having a grand opening event brings gets the word out faster and creates a buzz around your new venture.

Sales Event:

You are having a BIG sale but so is everyone else in your mall location. Why not differentiate yourself by having a DJ play music in your store. Sales usually increase 30% on average.

5

Networking events:

These events are ideal for making new contacts, leading to new clients, partners, and vendors.

6

Product launches:

Create a buzz around the release of your new product by holding a launch party. It's a good way to get customers excited and to generate media coverage.

7

Award ceremonies:

Boost employee morale by hosting an event to honor them for all of the things they've done for your company.

8

Holiday parties:

The holidays present the perfect opportunity to throw a great party where you can invite clients, prospects, media members, and employees.

9

Staff and Family Barbecues

Why not show your staff how much you appreciate them by hosting a barbecue for staff and family.

10

Customer appreciation parties:

Customer retention should always be a focus for your business. Show your customers how much you appreciate them by hosting an event just for them.

"I was very impressed with the team at Divinity. They were very professional and courteous. They helped make our product launch event a huge success. We would definitely rehire Divinity for our next corporate event."

-Suhan, Sync.com

"Divinity DJs did a great job providing the music for our fundraiser. They managed to engage our small crowd with just the right music. I had several people tell me after our event that "the DJ was great-where did you find him?". Plus he was very generous on the pricing side. I will be calling Sam again next year and would recommend him to anyone."

- Michelle, Air Canada

"Second time I have used Divinity Productions and they are amazing every time. Really understand a crowd and really understand different functions. I have had them for a wedding and now for a corporate event and over all we are very very satisfied. They are professional and know what they are doing and can bring an event to the next level. THANK YOU!"
